With a robust background in health, safety, and environmental (HSE) management in the offshore industry, my role at Saipem has solidified my expertise in risk assessments and compliance with HSE regulations. At the heart of my work lies a commitment to fostering a culture of safety and environmental stewardship, ensuring that all operations align with the highest standards. Collaboratively, our team has successfully maintained stringent HSE protocols, contributing to safer workplace practices and regulatory adherence. My hands-on experience as a Permit To Work (PTW) controller and my proficiency in ISO 45001 standards are instrumental in driving operational excellence and supporting Saipem's mission to deliver projects safely and sustainably. I have experience in the Oil and Gas industry for more than 8 years with international companies, subsea construction, offshore operations, and related onshore scopes. Having a technical education in petroleum engineering and solid experience in different offshore scopes, I feel confident that I fit this position.
