I have extensive experience as a Drilling and Workover Supervisor, with a proven track record of successfully planning, supervising, and executing oil and gas operations in diverse regions and under challenging operational and environmental conditions. Throughout my career, I have been directly involved in overseeing activities from initial well planning through final well completion and handover. My expertise covers a wide range of drilling and workover operations, including exploration and development drilling, fishing operations, well stimulation, cementing, acidizing, well testing, and well control operations. I have hands-on experience in managing critical well control situations, ensuring strict compliance with international safety standards, company policies, and regulatory requirements. Safety, operational efficiency, and cost optimization have always been my top priorities. I have successfully coordinated multidisciplinary teams, including drilling contractors, service companies, and third-party vendors, ensuring seamless communication and effective execution of operations. My role has required strong leadership, decision-making under pressure, and the ability to adapt quickly to unforeseen downhole challenges such as stuck pipe, lost circulation, kicks, and mechanical failures. In addition, I am highly experienced in reviewing and approving drilling programs, risk assessments, and daily drilling reports, as well as monitoring performance indicators to improve operational efficiency. My strong technical background, combined with practical field experience and a results-oriented mindset, allows me to deliver projects safely, on schedule, and within budget while maintaining high operational standards.
