Additional Information

Roles and Responsibilities	Additional Skills/Certification
Attention to details is one of my key skills and it is very important in safety and hazard prevention. My calmness behaviour gives me an advantage to study and meticulously observe to spot minor hazards. On spotting hazards, I have a good sense analytical thinking, managing (multi-tasking), emergency preparedness (developing and executing effective emergency response plan), risk assessment and hazard identification (ability to proactive identify potential hazards and develop mitigation strategies), regulatory compliance, strong communication, toolbox meetings, policy implementation and strong safety culture, adaptability and continuous learning, compliance monitoring, training and development, problem solving (implementing practical solutions), leadership and influence (motivating teams and inspiring adherence to safety practices).	Rigger
